Themed: Rethinking Sustainability of Higher Education backed by Civil Society & Industry Players in a Global Changing Climate”, the Conference brings together Top Leaders in Academia-Industry & Civil Society, Educationists, Agriculturalists, Veterinarians, Economists; Entrepreneurs, Students and People to discuss, strategize and make recommendations geared towards re-establishment and re-alignment of unique, innovative and collaborative resource mobilization & aggregation strategies geared towards sustainability of these institutions in a global changing climate.

BACKGROUND

FBGA 2022 Conference Organizers & Advisory Team take cognizance of University and TVET Students' capacities and immense potential that they possess in playing a key role in resolving societal problems affecting Sub Sahara Africa today.

Of critical need is the desire for Sustainability of the Institutions of Learning where each of these students is undergoing their studies for a better tomorrow. The organizers therefore have embraced the need for these students spread across East, Central and West Africa Regions to take part in the FBGA 2022 Conference whether in-person or virtual participation.

This is based on the rationale that sustainability of Higher Education & that of TVETs affects them directly. Any positive move or negative move that threatens the sustainability of these institutions of learning that they have enrolled for an education will directly impact on their future, now and in the days to come.

Therefore, the Conference Organizers through key sponsors have taken up 80% of the total conference cost per students and given them a relatively affordable rate to enable them enroll for the conference. With USD 20 [virtual participation] or USD 80 [in-person participation], students intending to attend the conference have an opportunity to access all of the conference attendance benefits indicated below.
